Ellsin Environmental release

Ajax, Ontario, CANADA – (March 9, 2010) - Environmental Waste International Inc. (EWS) (TSX-V: EWS) provides the following text of an announcement made by Ellsin Environmental Ltd. (“Ellsin”).

“Ellsin has reached a milestone in its short history. We received full environmental permitting for our Sault Ste. Marie operation from the Ontario Ministry of the Environment. The MOE Certificate of Approval – Waste which was issued last week accompanies the Certificate of Approval – Air & Noise that we received in early January, 2010.

Our enviro – consultants have told us that this was achieved in a record time of less than four months.

Ellsin has arranged financing and will shortly proceed with the construction of our operating facility. We are expecting release of government funding for our project soon.”

EWS has designed systems for the sterilization of medical waste, liquid waste and food waste as well as the treatment of several other organic waste streams including the breakdown of used tires. EWS continues to work on designs for other processors. Please visit EWS’s home page at: www.ewmc.com .
